Bartender of the Month
Scott Sullivan

Scott Sullivan was chosen for the Coconut Telegraphs Bartender of the Month because his loyal customers nominated him and were quite adamant about it. Scott tends bar at Gilbert's Resort and the newly reopened and renovated Latin American Restaurant. "I've got the best of both worlds" says Scott. "Gilbert's is fast paced and the customers are interesting characters that are so much fun, and the Latin American is more casual. I've been here since it opened and I've watched it grow. The best thing is the quality of staff at both places. They are a hardworking fun group of people that I am proud to be associated with. The comfort level is so great and the view of the bay isn't too bad either."

Scott was born in California and started working in restaurants at the age of 14 and has worked in some of the finest restaurants all over the country. He worked in the Keys seasonally for years and got tired of the snow and moved here permanently. His lovely girlfriend Cleo also tends bar and works at Holiday Isle's Rumrunners with Trapper John and Wobby. Together they could probably write a book. Scott's specialty drink is the Mojito and his goal is to someday teach fellow bartender, Jim, how to make them.

Scott graduated college with an Associates Degree in Business and can also cook but says, "Please don't tell my boss Reinhard." Sorry Scott, the cat's out of the bag. The staff at the Latin American and Gilbert's like Scott are all hardworking, honest, loyal, even-tempered and dependable or they just wouldn't last there. It is the teamwork and family atmosphere that makes both places such a success. Dave Campbell tells us that Scott is quite the prankster. "He will walk up to me and tell me something totally off the wall, then he'll walk away and leave you shaking your head. He can always make me smile. You go tell Scott that I nominated him for this and if he doesn't like it then he can shove it!" Scott laughed and said, "Really, I'm flattered."
