Age Activated Attention Deficit Disorder.

Recently I was diagnosed with A.A.A.D.D. Age Activated Attention Deficit Disorder.

This is how it manifests:

I decide to water my garden. As I turn on the hose in the driveway, I look over at my car and decide it needs washing.

As I start toward the garage, I notice mail on the porch table that I brought up from the mailbox earlier.

I decide to go through the mail before I wash the car. I lay my car keys on the table, put the junk mail in the garbage can under the table, and notice that the can is full.

So, I decide to put the bills back on the table and take out the garbage first.

But then I think, since I'm going to be near the mailbox when I take out the garbage anyway, I might as well pay the bills first.

I take my checkbook off the table, and see that there is only one left. My extra checks are on my desk in the study, so I go inside the house to my desk where I find the can of Pepsi I'd been drinking.

I'm going to look for my checks but first I need to push the Pepsi aside so that I don't accidentally knock it over. The Pepsi is getting warm so I decide to put it in the refrigerator to keep it cold.

As I head toward the kitchen with the Pepsi, a vase of flowers on the counter catches my eye—they need water. I put the Pepsi on the counter and discover my reading glasses that I've been searching for all morning.

I decided I better put them back on my desk, but first I'm going to water the flowers.

I set the flowers back down on the counter, to fill a container with water and suddenly spot the TV remote. Someone had left it on the kitchen table.

I realize that tonight when we go to watch TV, I'll be looking for the remote but I won't remember that it's on the kitchen table so I decide to put it back in the den where it belongs, but first I'll water the flowers.

I pour some water in the flowers but quite a bit spills on the floor.

So, I set the remote back on the table, get some towels and wipe up the spill.

Then I head down the hall trying to remember what I was planning to do.

At the end of the day: the hose has been running since noon, the car isn't washed, the bills aren't paid, there is warm can of Pepsi sitting on the counter, there is still only one check in my check book, I can't find the remote, I can't find my glasses, I don't remember what I did with the car keys.

Then, when I try to figure out why nothing got done today, I'm really baffled because I know I was busy all damn day and I'm really tired.

I realize that this is a serious problem and I'll try to get some help for it, but first I'll check my e-mail...
