Be prepared this April Fools

Sleepers are the easiest to mess with:

Draw funny eyebrows and a moustache on their faces while they are asleep.

Place whipped cream in their hands and tickle their nose with a feather.

Place someone's hand while they are sleeping in a bowl of cold water is a sure way to make them wet their pants. Or just pour water in their bed and make them think they wet their pants.

Office pranks:

Go to the office early and tape down the ball on everyone's mouse. And watch their frustration building as they try to get to work.

Unplug your boss's keyboard and see how long it takes her or him to figure out why their computer is "frozen".

Rearrange their office furniture, desk and files. Or re-alphabetize files or your co-worker's rolodex.

Torture of family members:

Play Dr. Doolittle. Tape a walkie-talkie to your pet or hide it near where the pet is laying. Walk a safe distance away. When a family member tries to pick up or pat the pet say into your walkie-talkie in a gruff voice "I hate it when you do this to me!" See them jump with fright and shock.

Late at night fill the hair dryer with baby powder. Catch the expression on that family members face when their clean hair turns white as snow.

Try this prank on a teenager. Set the alarm clock for 3:00 a.m. and hide it under their bed.

Glue all the eggs to the carton and ask someone to make breakfast.

Put straight lemon juice in replace of the O.J.

Rubber band the handle of the spray nozzle on the kitchen sink down and aim it just right. The first person to use the sink will get a morning wake up shower.
