Editorial: Muu Muus, Drunks and Justice

Thanks to everyone for their letters and kind words of support for last months editorial about the Monroe County Veteran's Affairs employee who sent out the nasty letters about me and the Coconut Telegraph. I do need to clarify a few things. In his letters Mr. Gary Johnson called me a "Plus size, moo moo [sic] wearing autophobic drunk". I cannot argue that I have gained some weight since the death of my mother and onset of menopause. It is nothing a good diet, some exercise and time won't fix. Unfortunately I can't go jogging and write all the articles for this newspaper at the same time. However, I can assure you I am working on that issue. Next, I do not wear muu muus. That is just more proof that a woman did not write those trashy letters to local businesses. All women know what a muu muu is! Third, I am not seeing a psychiatrist or taking any medication for any mental disorders or for anything else for that matter. "Autophobia" is not an issue with me. Nor is any other phobia at this stage in my life. However, you Mr. Johnson need to acquire a healthy case of diktephobia (fear of justice).

Lastly, you call me a drunk. Now I admit I do enjoy a few glasses of wine with friends and one of my self-inflicted job requirements is to visit the local venues that advertise with me and take the photos you see in this newspaper. Visiting bars and restaurants is my job! I have never been arrested or been in any kind of trouble nor has my family. Can you say that Mr. High and Mighty? I think not. You won't see me sitting in a dark gloomy bar Saturday and Sunday mornings and afternoons with my hands quivering for a drink because I work 7 days a week. This writer is way too busy to be a drunk. If anyone reading this is concerned that they may be a drunk see page 3 of this issue.

Aside from the help of my printer and graphic artist I do everything. Writing, selling advertising, reporting, invoicing, photography and I even personally deliver every paper. That is why the advertising rates are so low. I am also always active with some kind of local charity event. In the last month alone I have opened my home to a homeless family of 4, sold my personal jewelry to raise money for a friend in need and I am currently involved with the Pirates on the Water M*A*S*H benefit to raise money for the Good Health Clinic. (See page 11.) Yet my bloodthirsty vicious attackers do NOTHING!

There is a tremendous amount of information I received from my readers that I have not yet been able to publish yet. There is also the matter of the loss of money and damages I have suffered from Mr. Johnson's attack that I need to address.

That's my problem. But what can you do to help the veterans? Please continue to send letters to George Brentnaall, Veteran's Affairs Department, Harvey Government Center, 1200 Truman Ave., Suite 204, Key West, Fl. 33040. If you are not satisfied with the response write to the county administrator or go up the chain of command with Veteran's Affairs. Our veterans deserve better and together we can make a difference.

How to tell if you are a drunk

1. You never have a hangover because you are always drunk.
2. Empty beer bottles serve as home decorations.
3. You've taken a beer to a job interview.
4. Tequila worms fear your name.
5. The only time you read "little" newspapers is to find the cheapest beer in town.
6. You're on your 5th liver transplant operation.
7. You frequently urinate outdoors.
8. You are so dehydrated from drinking that your genitals are shrunken.
9. None of the women at the bar look ugly at last call.
10. The space on your drivers license for eye color reads "bloodshot".
11. You check your smart phone photos to see what you did last night.
12. If liquor companies gave frequent flier miles you would own an airline.
13. You fall asleep taking a dump.
14. You pour some beer in your hand and when your friend asks, "what are you doing?" you say, "I'm giving my date a drink!"
15. You have had to return to the bar the next day to sift through the peacock to find your missing teeth.
16. Your organ donor recipient wakes up with a hangover.
17. It takes 6 weeks to put the fire out after your cremation.
18. For once you are dumb enough to come home sober and you get attacked by your dog.
19. You quit smoking pot to buy more beer.
20. You rate bar patrons by the number of beers needed to make them candidates to take home.
21. Your morning breath keeps the house free of bugs.
22. Your ideal mate is one that can outdrink you.
23. You don't drink and drive for fear you will spill some.
24. You've given your mother a case of beer for Mother's Day.
25. At your funeral they yell "Last Call" instead of playing Taps.
