Coco-nutty Holiday Gift Ideas

How Republicans and Democrats Celebrate the Holidays

Republicans say "Merry Christmas!"

Democrats say "Happy Holidays!"

Republicans help the poor during the holidays by sending $50 to the Salvation Army.

Democrats help the poor by giving $50, one buck at a time, to pan-handlers on the street.

Democrats get back at the Republicans on their Christmas list by giving them fruitcakes.

Republicans re-wrap them and send them to in-laws.

Democrats let their kids open all the gifts on Christmas Eve.

Republicans make their kids wait until Christmas morning.

When toasting the holidays, Republicans ask for eggnog or mulled wine.

Democrats ask for a Bud.

Democrats do much of their shopping at Target and Wal-Mart.

So do Republicans, but they don't admit it.

Republican parents have no problem buying toy guns for their kids.

Democrats refuse to do so. That is why their kids pretend to shoot each other with dolls.

Republicans spends hundreds of dollars and hours of work decorating the yard with outdoor lights and Christmas displays.

Democrats save their time and money, and drive around at night to look at other people's lights.

Democrats' favorite Christmas movie is "Miracle on 34th Street."

Republicans' favorite Christmas movie is "It's a Wonderful Life."

Right-Wing Republicans' favorite Christmas movie is "Die Hard."

Republicans take the price tag off expensive gifts before wrapping.

Democrats also remove price tags off pricey gifts ... and reposition them to make sure they are seen.

Democrats wear wide red ties and green sports jackets for the holiday season.

Republicans do too, but they wear them all year round.

Republicans enclose indulgent, wretchedly maudlin form letters about their families in their Christmas cards, at least once.

Public ridicule from Democrats usually discourages them from doing it again.

Democrats' favorite Christmas carol is "Deck the Halls."

Young Democrats' favorite Christmas carol is "Grandma Got Run Over by a Reindeer."

Republicans' favorite Christmas carol is "White Christmas."

Young Republicans' favorite Christmas carol is "White Christmas" for different reasons.

Cheapskate Republicans buy an artificial Christmas tree.

Tight-fisted Democrats buy a real tree, but they wait until the week before Christmas when the lots lower their prices.

Green Democrats buy a real tree with roots, and then replant it after New Years.

Republicans first began thinking like Republicans when they stopped believing in Santa Claus.

Democrats became Democrats because they never stopped believing in Santa Claus.

Democrat men like to watch football while the women fix holiday meals.

On this, Republicans are in full agreement.
