Marriage Seminar

At St. Peter's Catholic Church in Toronto, they periodically encourage husband marriage seminars.

At the session last week, the priest asked Giuseppe, who said he was approaching his 50th wedding anniversary, to take a few minutes and share some insight into how he had managed to stay married to the same woman all these years.

Giuseppe replied to the assembled husbands, 'Wella, I've tried to treat her nicea, spenda da money on her, but besta of all is, I tooka her to Italy for the 25th anniversary!'

The priest responded, 'Giuseppe, you are an amazing inspiration to all the husbands here! Please tell us what you are planning for your wife for your 50th anniversary?'

Giuseppe proudly replied, 'I'm gonna go pick her up.'

How I Lost My Teeth

I was in the Caribbean Club last night sitting at the bar waiting for a beer when a butt-ugly, big old heifer of a girl came up behind me, and slapped me on the butt.

She said, "Hey sexy, how about giving me your number."

I looked at her and said, "Have you got a pen." She said, "Sure do."

I said, "Well, you better get back in it before the farmer notices you're missing."

My dental surgery is this Friday.

Sometimes you run into people who will change your life forever.

These people are called bartenders.

He says, "100 lbs of dynamite, babe!"

He takes off his pants and the blonde says "What massive calves you have!"

He replies, "That's 100 lbs of dynamite babe!"

He then removes his underwear and the blonde goes running and screaming in fear. He puts his clothes on and chases behind her.

He catches her and ask why she ran like that. The blonde replies, "I was afraid to be around all that dynamite after I saw how short the fuse was!"

I need to get in shape. If I was murdered right now my chalk outline would be a circle.

Give Praise for Answered Prayers

The best story of the year is a painful but understandable story as told by a loving wife. A pastor asked if anyone in the congregation would like to express praise for answered prayers.

Suzie Smith stood and walked to the podium.

She said, "I have a praise. Two months ago, my husband, Tom, had a terrible bicycle wreck and his scrotum was completely crushed. The pain was excruciating and the doctors didn't know if they could help him."

You could hear a muffled gasp from the men in the congregation as they imagine the pain that poor Tom must have experienced. "Tom was unable to hold me or the children," she went on, "and every move caused him terrible pain."

We prayed as the doctors performed a delicate operation, and it turned out they were able to piece together the crushed remnants of Tom's scrotum, and wrap wire around it to hold it in place."

Again, the men in the congregation cringed and squirmed uncomfortably as they imagined the horrible surgery performed on Tom. "Now," she announced in a quivering voice, "thank the Lord, Tom is out of the hospital and the doctors say that with time, his scrotum should recover completely."

All the men sighed with unified relief. The pastor rose and tentatively asked if anyone else had something to say.

A man stood up and walked slowly to the podium. He said, "I'm Tom Smith."

The entire congregation held its breath. "I just want to tell my wife the word is sternum."
