New Emergency Flashers - Are they Effective?

I had a flat tire on US 1 recently, at Indian Key Fill. So I pulled over, got out of the car, and opened my trunk. I took out my cardboard men, unfolded them, and stood them at the rear of my car facing oncoming traffic. They look so lifelike you wouldn't believe it!

Just as I had hoped, cars started slowing down looking at the men, which made it much safer for me to work on the side of the road.

People honked and waved and it wasn't long before a police car pulled up behind me. The police officer wanted to know what the heck I was doing, so I calmly explained that I was changing my flat.

He told me he could see that, but demanded to know what my cardboard men were doing standing at the rear of my car. I couldn't believe he didn't know! So I told him. "They're my Emergency Flashers!"

ERRATA
CORRECTION
There was an error in the editorial column that was published last month. In the fifth paragraph, the second sentence stated that Charlie's hiccups were cured temporarily through the use of carbon monoxide. It should have read carbon dioxide.

Nude Classical/Jazz Musicians Needed (Islamorada)
I'm looking to hire 1-4 nude musicians to play during an art opening in Islamorada from 6-8pm on March 11th. I am the curator of a show of tasteful nude photographs that reference famous nudes from the history of art, and I need nude musicians to play at the opening. Rate is negotiable.
A nude cellist, a nude jazz duo, a nude string quartet, two naked jazz flautists—these are all the types of performers who would be perfect to play at our opening.
Interested parties, please contact me for more details. 305-ITS-JOKE

FOR SALE: Autographed copy of Plato's Republic 1st edition of The Republic signed by the author. There is of course a reasonable amount of wear and tear, (light highlighting and underlining, dog-eared pages, back cover missing, etc.) but it is in overall good condition considering its age. 305-555-PLTO

Do you have a small, incontinent dog?
Or perhaps you work for a small dog rescue of some sort. Either way, I have a package of small doggy diapers. I don't want to throw them out cuz they are pretty expensive (as someone with a small incontinent dog would already know). Please don't try to put them on a cat. It won't work. Trust me. 1-305-555-DOGS

International Scuba Diving Hall of Fame

DICK RUTKOWSKI

STEPHEN FRINK

Two accomplished residents of Key Largo have been elected into the 18th Annual Induction Ceremony of the International SCUBA Diving Hall of Fame, schedule for October 5th, 2018 in the Cayman Islands. Others elected are from France, Indonesia, Kazakhstan, and Germany, but those elected from the U.S. are Stephen Frink and Dick Rutkowski, both over 30-year residents and businesses owners in Key Largo. (Further information can be found on the International SCUBA Diving Hall of Fame website: www.ISDHF.com)

Steven Frink travels around the world as a prolific underwater photographer for magazines such as Skin Diver Magazine, and Scuba Diving Magazine. He is editor and publisher of the Alert Dive Magazine for the Divers Alert Network. His underwater photos have appeared in a multitude of ads and articles throughout the world. He is known throughout the world for his education programs teaching under-water photography, his other companies includes Seacam, for which he is the North American distributor. As one of the world's most published underwater photographers, Steven Frink knows a thing or two about the oceans and has for over 30 years.

Dick Rutkowski is a pioneer in the field of hyperbaric medicine, diving medicine and breathing gases for the treating of divers and clinical patients. His educational programs are conducted world wide and he has taught over 7800 medical experts in diving and clinical hyperbaric medicine, gases and life-support systems and the oxygen-enriched air concept called Nitrox. Rutkowski served in the Navy, enlisting in 1950 for 7 and a half years, with over 5 years in both the polar regions Antarctica and the Canadian Northwest Territories, then he spent 5 years in the Environmental Science Services Administration (ESSA), then 15 years with the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration (NOAA).

Upon retiring, (having 32 years in Key Largo), he has continued to consult and teach diving and clinical hyperbaric medical programs, gases and other life-support systems for the undersea world. He still continues to do science, education, consulting and inventing.
