

Evil Love Poem

Love may be beautiful, love may be bliss.
But I only slept with you because I was pissed.

I thought that I could love no other.
Until, that is, I met your brother.

Roses are red, violets are blue,
sugar is sweet and so are you.

But the roses are wilting, the violets are dead,
the sugar bowl's empty and so is your head.

Of loving beauty you float with grace.
If only you could hide your face.

Kind, intelligent, loving and hot.
This describes everything you are not.

I want to feel your sweet embrace.
But don't take that paper bag off your face.

I love your smile, your face, and your eyes.
Damn, I'm good at telling lies!

My darling, my lover, my beautiful wife:
Marrying you screwed up my life.

I see your face when I am dreaming.
That's why I always wake up screaming.

My love, you take my breath away.
Just what have you stepped in to smell this way?

My feelings for you no words can tell.
Except for maybe "go to hell."

What inspired this amorous rhyme?
Two parts vodka, one part lime.

Undiscovered Gem In The Redland

Just two miles down the street from famous Knaus Berry Farm lies a delicious alternative with short lines. Phil's Berry Farm not only offers some of the best shakes in town, but a scrumptious cinnamon pastry called Monkey Bread, all housed inside a red barn that is adorned with a life-size fiberglass cow.

Owner, Farmer Phil and his wife Patty created Phil's Berry Farm for family entertainment that caters to those not wanting to wait in line, with kids, down the road. Outside is a collection of real animals for the enjoyment of all ages.

There is no entrance fee and use of toys and games is gratis. And now, under construction, is "MOOTOWN," a western village for photo shoots.

Phil's Berry Farm is a happy place for birthday parties and educational farm tours, and now they are expanding to include baby showers, quinceañeros parties and an affordable alternative for weddings. Become part of their upcoming Wedding Expo scheduled for March 4th. Reserve your spot by emailing: philsberrymfarm@gmail.com Make sure to visit their website online at philsberrymfarm.com.

The 2017 Darwin Awards are out...

It's that magical time of the year again, when the Darwin Awards are bestowed, honoring the least evolved among us.

Here is the winner:

When his .38 caliber revolver failed to fire at his intended victim during a hold-up in Long Beach, California, would-be robber James Elliot did something that can only inspire wonder. He peered down the barrel and tried the trigger again. This time it worked.

Honorable mentions:

The chef at a hotel in Switzerland lost a finger in a meat cutting machine and after a little shopping around, submitted a claim to his insurance company. The company expecting negligence sent out one of its men to have a look for himself. He tried the machine and he also lost a finger! The chef's claim was approved.

A man who shoveled snow for an hour to clear a space for his car during a blizzard in Chicago returned with his vehicle to find a woman had taken the space. Understandably, he shot her.

After stopping for drinks at an illegal bar, a Zimbabwean bus driver found that the 20 mental patients he was supposed to be transporting from Harare to Bulawayo had escaped. Not wanting to admit his incompetence, the driver went to a nearby bus stop and offered everyone waiting there a free ride.

He then delivered the passengers to the mental hospital, telling the staff that the patients were very excitable and prone to bizarre fantasies. The deception wasn't discovered for 3 days.

An American teenager was in the hospital recovering from serious head wounds received from an oncoming train. When asked how he received the injuries, the lad told police that he was simply trying to see how close he could get his head to a moving train before he was hit.

A man walked into a Louisiana Circle-K, put a $20 bill on the counter, and asked for change. When the clerk opened the cash drawer, the man pulled a gun and asked for all the cash in the register, which the clerk promptly provided. The man took the cash from the clerk and fled, leaving the $20 bill on the counter. The total amount of cash he got from the drawer. $15. (If someone points a gun at you and you net $5, is a crime committed?)

Seems an Arkansas man wanted some beer pretty badly. He decided that he'd just throw a cinder block through a liquor store window, grab some booze, and run. So he lifted the cinder block and heaved it over his head at the window. The cinder block bounced back and hit the would-be thief on the head, knocking him unconscious. The liquor store window was made of Plexiglas. The whole event was caught on video.

As a female shopper exited a New York convenience store, a man grabbed her purse and ran. The clerk called 911 immediately, and the woman was able to give them a detailed description of the snatcher. Within minutes, the police apprehended the snatcher. They put him in the car and drove back to the store. The thief was then taken out of the car and told to stand there for a positive ID. To which he replied, Yes, officer, that's her. That's the lady I stole the purse from.

The Ann Arbor News crime column reported that a man walked into a Burger King in Ypsilanti, Michigan at 5 A.M., flashed a gun, and demanded cash. The clerk turned him down because he said he couldn't open the cash register without a food order. When the man ordered onion rings, the clerk said they weren't available for breakfast... The frustrated gunman walked away.

When a man attempted to siphon gasoline from a motor home parked on a Seattle street by sucking on a hose, he got much more than he bargained for. Police arrived at the scene to find a very sick man curled up next to a motor home near spilled sewage. A police spokesman said that the man admitted to trying to steal gasoline, but he plugged his siphon hose into the motor home's sewage tank by mistake. The owner of the vehicle declined to press charges saying that it was the best laugh he'd ever had and the guy had been punished enough!

MOST RECENT ADDITION:

He should have kept his hands on the wheel. Referred to as a "distracted driver," Clifford Ray Jones, 58, lost his life early Sunday morning when he rolled his Toyota while driving on the on ramp to I75.

It was not traffic he was trying to beat. Driving onto the expressway without pants -- without his seat belt -- with a wide-open sunroof in winter -- watching a porno flick on the mobile -- well, police as well as Darwin Awards reporters draw the obvious conclusion.

At 3:40am his vehicle went out of control, rolled, and crashed. Our hero was ejaculated through the sun roof in a spectacular climax to a good life. Come and gone at the same time, Clifford and his beloved wanky will be fondly remembered in our archives.
