

Coco'Nut' Funnies

Once I went to a party with my husband, full of people he knew (from work) but I didn't. A guy came up to us, turned to me and said "You must be his wife." I turned to my husband and said "You have a WIFE?" Should've seen the guy's face!

It's almost fall in the South!

Get ready for:

- Pumpkins
- Mosquitos
- Humidity
- Shorts
- Flip-flops

Ok, so it's basically summer but with pumpkins

Neolithic stones found in field

Archaeologists have uncovered what they believe to be the oldest stones known to man. A chance discovery in Wiltshire has shed new light on the activities of Neolithic man. The stones, Keith and Mick, were discovered passed out in a field. One expert explained, "Exactly what the Stones were doing there remains one of the great historical mysteries of all time – they certainly can't remember."

Having a teenager is like living in a haunted house. Every now and then you'll see a figure in the corner of your eye, followed by a moaning sound and then a door will slam shut.

Halloween, Florida style!

A blonde city girl named Amy marries a Colorado rancher.

One morning, on his way out to check on the cows, the rancher says to Amy, "The insemination man is coming over to impregnate one of our cows, so I drove a nail into the 2x4 just above where the cow's stall is in the barn."

"Please show him where the cow is when he gets here, OK?" The rancher leaves for the fields."

After a while, the artificial insemination man arrives and knocks on the front door. "I came to inseminate the cow," he said. Amy takes him down to the barn.

They walk along the row of cows, and when Amy sees the nail, she tells him, "This is the one right here."

The man, assuming he is dealing with an airhead blonde, asks, "Tell me, lady, 'cause I'm dying to know. How would YOU know that this is the right cow to be bred?" "That's simple," she said. "By the nail that's over its stall," she explains very confidently.

Laughing rudely at her, the man says, "And what, pray tell, is the nail for?" The blonde turns to walk away and says sweetly over her shoulder, "I guess it's to hang your pants on," she replied.

Dear Facebook,
 please stop suggesting people I may know.
 I do know them.
 I don't like them.

If one door closes and another one opens, your house is haunted and you need to run.

Due to a power outage, The house was very dark, so the paramedic asked Kathleen, a 3-year-old girl, to hold a flashlight high over her mommy so he could see while he helped deliver the baby. Little Connor was born. The paramedic lifted him by his feet and spanked him on his bottom And he began to cry. The paramedic then asked the wide-eyed 3-year-old what she thought about what she had just witnessed. She quickly responded, 'He shouldn't have crawled in there in the first place, spank him again!'

Three doctors arrive at the gates of heaven. Before they enter through the gates, an angel meets them and asks each of them why they should be allowed into heaven.

The first doctor says, "In my life, I was an obstetrician. I helped bring many healthy babies into the world and bring happiness to their parents."

The angel responds, "You did well in your life. You may enter."

The second doctor says, "In my life, I was a trauma surgeon. I saved many lives and gave many a second chance at life."

The angel responds to her, "you did well in your life... you may enter."

The third doctor says, "In my life, I was an insurance reviewer. I saved insurance companies millions and millions of dollars."

The angel pauses a moment and then responds, "You did well. You, too, may enter..."

... But you can only stay for three days."

Stop buying plastic skeletons for Halloween. It's terrible for the environment. Locally sourced, all natural skeletons are much more environmentally friendly.

(Doorbell rings)
 "Hello! Do you have a minute to talk about Dracula?"
 "No- wait, Dracula?"
 "Yes!"
 "You're vampires?"
 "Yes. We have pamphlets."
 "Vampires have missionaries?"
 "Where else would new vampires come from?"
 "I assumed you bit people."
 "There are many hurtful stereotypes. May we come in?"

A sixteen-year-old boy came home with a brand new Ford F150. His parents look at the truck and ask, "Where did you get that truck?!"

"I bought it today," he says.

"With what money?" says his mother. They knew what a new F150 cost.

"Well," he says, "this one cost me just fifteen dollars."

The father looks at him like he's crazy. "Who would sell a truck like that for fifteen dollars?" he says.

"It was the lady up the street," says the boy. "I don't know her name – they just moved in. She saw me ride past on my bike and asked me if I wanted to buy her F150 for fifteen dollars.

"Oh my Goodness!" says the mother. "Maybe she's mentally ill or has Alzheimer's something. John, you better go see what's going on."

So the boy's father walks up the street to the house where the lady lives and finds her out in the yard calmly planting petunias.

He introduces himself as the father of the boy to whom she had sold a new Ford F150 truck for fifteen dollars and asks to know why she did it.

"Well," she says, "two days ago my husband left on a business trip. Yesterday I got a phone call from his boss and found out that he really ran off to Hawaii with his secretary and doesn't intend to come back."

"Oh, my goodness, I'm so sorry," the father says. "But what does that have to do with my son and your truck?"

"Well, this morning he called and told me he was stranded because he got robbed of his wallet with all his credit cards and cash. He told me to sell his new F150 and send him the money. So I did."
