

The Galley Restaurant & Sharkey's Pub Thanks Patrons with Anniversary Bash

Story and photos by Rich Peine

On July 14th one of the best restaurants and bars in the Keys had a six-year anniversary bash. The Galley Restaurant and Sharkey's Pub on the Port Largo Canal had a pig roast with all the trimmings, feeding everyone who came. Paul Moen, Grateful Ted and Shannon Battle provided live music. And over 200 T Shirts were given away.

The usual suspects were in attendance. Jason, Ray, Hyperbaric Dick, Joe, Rick, Dewey and so many more that their names would take up a few pages. Comments like, 'awesome', 'ain't this great' and 'who else would do this for the locals' were heard.

Adam and Paul (pictured right), the owners, appreciate all the folks who have been coming to The Galley Restaurant and Sharkey's Pub. To show their appreciation, last year they started the anniversary Party. Looks like it's going to be an annual happening.

If you have never been there, stop by. You will be in for a real treat.

Grateful Ted

Inside Sharkey's Pub

Shannon Battle

Restaurant and pub owner, Paul (right), served up the pig roast and all the trimmings to his loyal and faithful customers.

Dewey (without the casino boat) stopped by to enjoy the feast.