Genetically Modified Mosquito Trial in the Florida Keys Approved by the EPA

by Denise Malefyt

The federal government has approved a plan to test genetically modified mosquitos in the Florida Keys. A British company named Oxitec has targeted us for an experimental trial and the Environmental "Protection" Agency has finally approved it after 5 years of Monroe County residents fighting it.

Now, I don't know anyone who actually likes mosquitos, they are pesky and carry diseases and I am all for eradicating them off the face of the earth, but I don't want to be their guinea pig. We are still trying to get past the Coronavirus and don't need this crap. Oxitec should conduct their experiments in their own damn country where they have blue bloods to suck on. Leave us red-blooded Americans alone!

If we all stay inside a bit longer then maybe we can starve mosquitos to extinction. If there was ever a cause to unite all humanity, then this is it.

No matter your gender, the color of your skin, whether you're beautiful or ugly, smart or stupid. Mosquitoes will always love you for who you are.

- The only one who sings for me
- The only one who give me love bites
- The only one who keeps coming back even when I chase him away

I went outside to check on my plants. I felt something cold and wet on my arm. I looked down and saw a mosquito using a wet wipe before he bit me.

Marking the Tragic Loss of Pascal Weisberger

Pascal Weisberger, the young man who was tragically murdered by his brother, was a much-loved student at Treasure Village Montessori School.

With the blessing of Principal Kelly Mangel, Keys to Peace took their Peace Arch to the grounds of the school in early May. They hung a huge red heart with Pascal's name under the arch. It has never looked so beautiful.

Keys to Peace hopes that this symbol of peace and love will contribute in some small way to the healing of our community.
