

What More Can We Say?

I married for love but the obvious side benefit of having someone around to find my glasses cannot be ignored.

—Cameron Esposito

Love is a funny thing. Finding that special someone to share the rest of your life with is one of the best gifts we could ever ask for, but life is long and sometimes you just need to laugh at yourselves. In-between the romance, the long nights, monotonous days, and bickering over who last did the laundry, there are truly some hilarious moments during a marriage that can be perfectly described with a succinct marriage quote. We hope these will remind you why you fell in love in the first place.

Getting married is like trading the adoration of many for the sarcasm of one.

—Mae West

Marriage is the bond between a person who never remembers anniversaries and another who never forgets them.

—Ogden Nash

Before I got married, I had six theories about raising children; now I have six children and no theories.

—John Wilmot

To keep your marriage brimming, with love in the wedding cup, whenever you're wrong, admit it; whenever you're right, shut up.

—Ogden Nash

Before you marry a person you should first make them use a computer with slow Internet to see who they really are.

—Will Ferrell

One of the keys to a successful marriage is separate bathrooms. When he enters my bathroom sometimes, I'm like, "Why are you in here?" And he's like, "I live here. Can I enjoy my bathroom too?"

—Michelle Obama

Husband secretly lowers the thermostat and I secretly turn it back up. We both vehemently deny touching it. Marriage is fun.

—Stephanie Ortiz

My husband and I have never considered divorce... murder sometimes, but never divorce.

—Dr. Joyce Brothers

Marriage is really tough because you have to deal with feelings ... and lawyers.

—Richard Pryor

The definition of eternity is two people and a ham.

—Dorothy Parker

The best thing to ever happen to marriage is the pause-live-TV button.

—Rick Reilly

Marriage is an attempt to solve problems together which you didn't even have when you were on your own.

—Eddie Cantor

An archeologist is the best husband a woman can have. The older she gets, the more interested he is in her.

—Agatha Christie

By all means, marry. If you get a good wife, you'll become happy; if you get a bad one, you'll become a philosopher.

—Socrates

I love being married. It's so great to find that one special person you want to annoy for the rest of your life.

—Rita Rudner

Marriage is not just spiritual communion; it is also remembering to take out the trash.

—Joyce Brothers

Never get married in college; it's hard to get a start if a prospective employer finds you've already made one mistake.

—Elbert Hubbard

HOW TO ENJOY YOURSELF AT A WEDDING YOU DIDN'T WANT TO ATTEND

(and ensure you're never invited to another wedding again)

You said you would go, and now you can't take it back. If it's too late to come up with a last-minute excuse, follow these easy steps for making the most of a wedding you didn't want to attend.

DURING THE CEREMONY

- Choose a seat as close as possible to the bar, so you can be first in line when it opens.
- As the bride comes down the aisle, let her know everything looks beautiful.
- Attempt to take communion mid-ceremony.
- Just before he says his vows, give the groom a big, knowing wink.
- Count the number of times someone says "forever" on your fingers. Keep your hands up where everyone can see them.

DURING THE COCKTAIL HOUR

- Attach yourself to the first person who says hello to you and stick by their side throughout the hour.
- Ask a waiter if the canapes have meat in them and then if they don't, say, "That's okay, I brought my own."
- Walk over to where they're doing bridal party photos and repeatedly let the photographer know you're here and ready whenever he or she needs you.
- Pretend to be breaking up with your significant other via text message.
- Grab a tray of champagne flutes and sip quietly in the corner.

DURING DINNER

- Form the butter on your table into a heart and write a message for the happy couple using your knife.
- Introduce yourself to everyone else at the table as a friend of the groom's side piece.
- Loudly announce to your waiter "This isn't what I ordered!" and threaten to leave without paying.
- Refuse to let anyone eat their food before you've Instagrammed it.
- Ask the other guests at your table if they've tried the adorable color-coordinated glory hole in the men's bathroom yet.

AT THE RECEPTION

- Cut in during the father-daughter dance.
- Request that the band plays The Mountain Goats' "No Children."
- Don't dance, but stand immobile in the middle of the dance floor for as long as possible.
- Ask the bride if you can get a quick photo of you and her bustle.
- If there's a photo booth, use it to check on the moles on your back.

AT THE AFTER PARTY

- Drunkenly hook up with someone, anyone, who will distract you from how horribly boring and tedious it all is.

'License to Chill' Luxury Yacht

License to Chill is a luxury yacht charter for up to 6 guests. Day trips minimum 3 hours. Enjoy snorkeling, water toys, dolphin watching and lots of relaxing. We love celebrations! Birthdays, anniversaries, promotions, divorce whatever. Hey, this is the Keys... any excuse for a party. Food and fuel included. Bring your own alcoholic beverages.

How about staying aboard overnight? Limited to 4 guest. Ever wonder what it's really like? At anchor, in a quiet cove, perhaps dolphins in the morning. Some say it's "living the dream." Come join us and find out for yourself!

Ken & Monica
 KEN 305-906-0306
 MONICA 305-747-8664
 Passenger pickup: Plantation Yacht Harbor
 captken55@gmail.com

"Our family spent two wonderful nights on the yacht. Captains Kenny and Monica are great hosts - the atmosphere was chillin' and the accommodations were clean and very comfortable. We snorkeled, caught fish, learned about the live-aboard experience and are looking forward to our next journey on the 'Chill'."

