Editorial - Appreciation

Coconut Telegraph would like to thank all our advertisers and readers for another great year. We are now into year number 16 and no one is more surprised by our success than us. We wish everyone a happy and prosperous 2022.

We would like to remind everyone that the Coconut Telegraph is a small, privately owned monthly dining and entertainment newspaper. Our goal is to stimulate awareness of our advertisers so that together business will flourish. Our advertising rates are very low but our promotions are mighty. We boast the best graphic art / composing team on the planet. The Coconut Telegraph is available online for free at theconchtelegraph.com along with archives in case you are looking for a back article... thanks to webmaster extraordinaire Omar Perez. We now offer subscriptions (see page 12). The policy of the Coconut Telegraph is that we only promote our advertisers. That is only fair because they are the ones who sponsor this publication.

We are a very short staff but also a very close staff, close to broke, close to insanity and close to killing each other.*

If you would like information on advertising please call Denise at 305-304-2837 and be sure to leave a message. We will be happy to make an appointment or send you information. Keep in mind that along with your ad we are happy to promote your bartenders, staff and customers with photographs and articles whenever we can. We also welcome press releases and photographs from all our advertisers.

If for any reason at any time we have offended you as a reader we do not apologize. If you have an emotional reaction to what we have written then we have done our job. Nobody wants to read boring verbage!

Donations are being accepted at the American Legion and there is a Go Fund ME account.
